"Flag of the free! thy folds shall fly,
The sign of hope and triumph nigh."

FOR PRESIDENT,
HENRY CLAY,
OF KENTUCKY.

WASHINGTON.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 22, 1843.

MAINE ELECTION.

The Globe is silent about the results of the recent trials in Maine, and well it may be. It was upon the predicated Locofoco success in that State that the editor announced a few days ago the UNION OF THE DEMOCRACY, but the "Democracy" is neither united there or elsewhere; in support of this assertion, so far as Maine is concerned, we may adduce the fact that the hitherto strongest Locofoco district in the whole State will be unrepresented at the opening of this Congress—the very district from which the Locofoco Governor, Mr. Anderson, is taken. The sceptre has at length dropped from the grasp of King Caucus, and in Maine, regular nominations, by packed conventions, have come to be regarded by the people as regular humbugs. The Globe may now despair of getting any additional strength, even a single vote for the printer-ship, from its good old stand-by, Maine.

MR. CLAY.

The Whigs of Norfolk.—The Whigs of Norfolk held a meeting on the 28th of September last, at which a resolution was adopted authorizing the appointment of a committee of one hundred to invite the Hon. HENRY CLAY to visit that borough during his contemplated tour to North Carolina. The committee created in conformity to this resolution, addressed a letter to the distinguished Kentucky statesman, under date of the 20th ult. The following is the reply:

ASHLAND, 10th Nov., 1843.

GENTLEMEN: I have received the invitation which you did me the honor to transmit, at the instance of the Whigs of the borough of Norfolk, to visit it during my contemplated tour to North Carolina. Norfolk being in the route by which I propose to return from the city of Raleigh to my residence, it was my intention to pass through it before I received your friendly note. That adds to the motives which I previously entertained to make the visit; and in accepting your obliging invitation, I request you to accept also my respectful and grateful acknowledgments for the friendly and flattering terms in which it is conveyed. Not having fixed yet the time when I hope to reach Raleigh, I cannot now designate that of my arrival at Norfolk. I think it will be April. I am gentlemen, with high respect, your friend and obedient servant.

H. CLAY.

Messrs. William Garnett, Robert E. Taylor, Thomas Newton, John P. Leigh, and the other gentlemen composing the committee of one hundred, &c., &c., &c.

Whig Aristocracy.—It is highly probable that the Whigs of Maine have elected two Representatives to Congress to fill the vacancies in their delegation—one in the third and the other in the fourth district. Freeman H. Morse, of Bath, the Whig probably elected from the fourth district, is a working ship carver—a self-made man. Luther Severance, the Whig elected from the third district, was a journeyman printer in the office of the National Intelligencer, at Washington, and went from that office into the State of Maine, and located himself as the conductor of a newspaper. He now goes back to Washington, a member of Congress. These two highly intelligent and worthy working mechanics have been elected to Congress by the Whigs of their districts, against two lawyers, supported with all the force of the [ ] DEMOCRATIC party.

Boston Atlas.

Correspondence of the Journal of Commerce.

HAVANA, Nov. 8.

The new captain general, O'Donnell, took command on the 2d instant, at 9 o'clock, A. M. He is of high stature, well proportioned, large mustachios, and light hair.

His first measure was to renew the licenses of the stores, pedlars, clerks, &c. You well know how many thousands of dollars are drawn from the people by this order in the way of fees and stamped paper. This the people took inauspiciously, although he afterward issued another order which relieved them from the much complained of exactions relative to passports.

The large mercantile house of Augustin Ferran has failed, and, it is said, gone to New Orleans.

Yesterday at 4 A. M., an express arrived from Matanzas, which brought the news of the rising of the slaves on several of the plantations. They were, however, immediately put down, and fifty of them killed and sixty-seven taken prisoners, while others hung themselves sooner than be taken by the authorities. I did not learn the number of whites that were killed, if any.

Alas! the Bachelor.—We dropped in suddenly, says the Crescent City, on a bachelor acquaintance of ours the other day, and just as we made our appearance, he put something in his pocket very hurriedly, and looked as guilty as if he had been caught with a spinster. We cast our eyes at his pocket and half way out hung the secret. It was his stocking! The poor miserable fellow had been darning, and it astonished us to see what perfection he had arrived at in that branch of home industry. You may give him up, girls.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

ARRIVAL OF STEAMSHIP CALEDONIA.

FIFTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE!!!

From the Boston Times—Extra.

By the steamer Caledonia, Capt. Lott, just arrived, we have files of English papers to the 4th instant. We give below all the news of importance.

Ole Bull, the celebrated violinist; Bishop Purcell, and Professor Park, have arrived as passengers in the Caledonia.

Free Trade in England.—One of the most striking domestic events of late years is the result of the city of London election. It has astonished both parties. The commercial metropolis of the world has unequivocally declared its adherence to those principles of free trade which have been recently promulgated with such energy by Messrs. Cobden, Bright, and others. As it affects the ministers' strength in the House of Commons, the election itself is a bagatelle. Not so its moral influence upon the country.

Robert Peel, the Premier, has been making a great speech at Tamworth on practical farming. The speech sounds the approach of great and speedy changes in what is called "protection to agriculture." There is no direct allusion to the Corn-laws, but his earnest exhortation to all engaged in husbandry to depend upon themselves alone.

The Acadia and Great Western.—The European Times says: "Few of the former triumphs of steam have surpassed the last homeward trips of the Acadia and Great Western. Notwithstanding the heavy gales with which our coast has been so recently visited, the former vessel entered the Mersey early on the morning of the 29th ult., having performed the passage from Halifax in ten days and nine hours. The Great Western arrived on the 1st inst., after an excellent run of twelve days and seventeen hours from New York."

FRANCE.

The Duke d'Aumale left Paris for Italy Saturday. He will proceed to Sicily, and thence to Constantinople.

M. Emmanuel de Cessaiac, nephew of M. de Lamartine, has been appointed one of the Attaches of the Embassy to China.

IRELAND—THE STATE PROSECUTIONS.

On Thursday morning, November 2, the Court of Queen's Bench was crowded to excess at an early hour, to witness the commencement of the State trials. The proceedings did not commence till one o'clock. The audience in the galleries was very numerous, and consisted of a large degree of ladies.

The Hon. Judge Burton entered the Court about one o'clock, and the clerk of the Crown proceeded to call over the grand pannel. The Attorney and Solicitor Generals, Sergeant Warren and Mr. Brewster, Q. C., took their seats shortly after the arrival of his lordship.

After some introductory remarks, the Judge charged as follows:

The exhibition of immense bodies of men, being persons petitioning for a Repeal of the Union, and at the same time asserting in their presence that in part, at least, by their intervention it must and should take place, seems to me to afford ground for charging it in the indictment as a purpose of intimidation.

After referring to the attempts made to excite dissatisfaction in the army and navy, which, if proved, his lordship pronounced a high misdemeanor—to certain letters and articles published in the Repeal papers, his lordship proceeded to consider the fiscal part of the charge—the collection of the rent. Gentlemen, this is the charge of soliciting and obtaining, as well from different parts of the United Kingdom as from foreign countries, large sums of money in order to promote and effectuate the objects charged by indictment.

I feel that I must, according to my view of the subject, add that this offence, as it appears to me to be charged—I allude here to the contributions—is a misdemeanor. The appointment of arbitrators to decide on matters of litigation between the Queen's subjects, calculated as it was to bring into contempt the legal tribunals of the country, his lordship pronounced, proved a misdemeanor.

The concluding portion of the charge referred to the importance of the case, and to impressing on the grand jury the necessity of giving it their best consideration.

His lordship's charge, which lasted forty-three minutes in delivery, was listened to with breathless interest.

The Attorney General said that the indictment in the case alluded to by the Court would be laid before the grand jury at half past ten o'clock on Friday morning, or at any other time that would suit the convenience of the jurors.

SPECIAL EXPRESS FROM DUBLIN!!

FRIDAY NIGHT.

We have, this morning, received intelligence from Dublin, by Special Express, bringing us the newspapers to the latest possible hour last night. The Grand Jury had been occupied the whole of the day in reading the indictments, which covered the enormous space of thirty-three skins of parchment. This enormously wordy affair had prevented the Grand Jury from examining any witnesses, although a large number were in attendance. It is expected that the proceedings of the Grand Jury, in the O'Connell trials, will be retarded until Monday next; certainly the bills cannot be returned before the evening of this day, and it seems hardly possible that the bills can be found even so soon.

The proceedings on these important trials will probably extend over a fortnight, unless Mr. O'Connell succeeds in traversing until next term, but there seems to be some legal doubt as to the possibility of traversing in these cases. The greatest possible interest existed in Dublin and large sums of money would have been eagerly given to obtain admission to the court.

O'Connell has issued a new Address to the people of Ireland, breathing a dauntless spirit. At a meeting in St. Audeon's Ward, on Sunday, he made the following declaration:

"Give me six months of perfect peace, and I'll give you my head on a block, if at the end of that time you have not a Parliament in College Green!"

Repeal meetings have been held in different wards of Dublin, and resolutions passed in support of Mr. O'Connell. At one of these, in the Post-office Ward, on Sunday, he gave an explanation respecting what he had said on the previous Monday about a Federal Parliament.

Two companies of Artillery, and the First Royal Dragoons have arrived in Dublin.

The Limerick papers of Friday mention that on the previous night, between 6 and 7 o'clock, the surrounding country blazed with fires lighted simultaneously, with surprising exactness. It appeared that these fires spread to the counties of Cork, Tipperary, and Clare, by ten o'clock. In several instances, the fires were burning in the public roads, and torches were seen to be borne along by the people in all directions.

The honorable and learned gentleman, it is stated, intends to enter into a general review of the British policy in Ireland, especially in regard to the Legislative Union, in order to exhibit the causes of the Repeal movement, out of which those State prosecutions have arisen. Mr. O'Connell's address to the jury alone will, probably, occupy two days. Chief Justice Pennefather is to preside. Subsequently it is stated by the Cork Reporter, that the fires were in honor of Mr. Smith O'Brien's return from the Continent, and accession to Repeal, which was already understood throughout the country!

It appears quite certain that Mr. O'Connell has determined to defend himself, and that his decision on this point was communicated to the counsel for the defendants, who held a consultation at the residence of Mr. O'Connell, in Merriion square, on Thursday last.

Reports gain ground in Dublin that Sir Robert Peel contemplates some comprehensive policy in respect to Irish grievances.

At the first meeting in Conciliation hall, Mr. O'Connell began thus: "I wish that the first sentence which I have to utter in this Conciliation hall, formed now as it is into an assembly, shall be this truth, that there is but one way to obtain a Repeal of the Union, and that is, by strictly peaceable means. (Cheers.) My second sentence, and the only one I shall utter before I hand in my money, is, that the Repeal is certain." (Deafening applause.)

The next steamer from England will probably bring out the result of the state prosecutions. It is said the short-hand writer, Hughes, the government reporter and chief witness, was so hoaxed by the Irish, that his evidence may involve the whole proceedings in ridicule.

ITALY.

More rumors imply something like a crisis in Italy: may it turn to good account. The Paris Reforme has a letter from Trieste of the 18th inst., which states that a strong body of Austrian troops actually had advanced to the Roman frontiers; while a French fleet was looked for at Ancona to balance the Austrian intervention. In the meantime, the Papal Government is indiscreet enough to enforce oppressive financial measures; venturing on money oppression, which makes politics intelligible to all classes.

GREECE.

King Otho, according to report, is incapable of comprehending his real position. From a letter dated from Athens on the 10th inst., it does not appear what the King's intentions were, but it is plain that he is in a very bewildered state. It is only to be hoped that, as he can't rule Greece, Greece will quietly rule him, until he is finally disposed of in some friendly way.

The intelligence by this mail is not of great moment; and it has been in part anticipated by the mail which was brought in the Hindostan from Calcutta.

Advices from Scinde came down on the 19th of August, when that province was quite tranquil.

There were abundant rumors respecting the state of Afghanistan. Dost Mohammed was said to be "ruling with a rod of iron," and one of the victims to his austerity was Ameen Oola, a traitor to Sha Sujah and the British.

There is a talk of some commotion among the officials of the Nizam's territory. The once powerful Minister Chundoo-Loll was in disgrace, in consequence of want of money; and it is supposed that the state will be "absorbed" in the British territory.

A most extraordinary conspiracy had been discovered at Bombay—"a joint stock company for plundering boats and ships, and smuggling."

It is said to have existed for thirty years, and to have been accustomed to divide £60,000 or £80,000 a year in profits! An accomplice had turned traitor to the confederacy, and denounced it; but the information was still very imperfect; and the Police agents are suspected of having been bribed by the gang to impede further disclosure.

Death of Mr. Hassler.—We regret to learn that Mr. Hassler, for many years at the head of the Coast Survey of the United States, died at Philadelphia on Monday evening. The United States Gazette, in announcing this event, says that he was some time since attacked with pleurisy, which yielded to the skill of his physicians; but the exhaustion consequent upon the treatment of the disease was so great, that he gradually sunk under it until the time of his demise. The scientific world will deeply regret the loss in Mr. Hassler of a thorough scholar, whose life has been usefully employed, and whose place will not easily be filled. He had, we believe, attained to the age of nearly eighty years, and was much enfeebled previous to his last illness.

Nat. Intell.

For Washington.—The Hon. John Wentworth, Member of Congress from Illinois, has arrived in town, on his way to Washington. He is the popular editor of the Chicago Democrat. At home, they call him, "Long John Wentworth," on account of his extraordinary height—seven feet six inches, we believe.—N. Y. Sun.

Growth of Boston.—It appears that within the year ending on the 1st of May last, the taxable population of Boston has increased 2,135; the personal property $1,148,800; real estate $2,173,500. The increase in the sum total of the tax by the addition of five cents on the $100 is $74,600 61. By computing the population at five times greater than the number of taxed polls, which is deemed a fair proportion, the city of Boston numbered on the first of May last, one hundred thousand three hundred and fifteen inhabitants.

An Octogenarian Dead.—The Philadelphia Forum says, on the 9th inst., David McMurtrie, of Huntingdon, the oldest resident of that place, departed this life. He heard the Declaration of Independence read in the State House yard on the 4th of July, 1776, left the city the same day for Huntingdon, and resided there until his death. Being personally intimate with General Washington, Dr. Franklin, and other worthies of the revolution, and having a social and communicative turn of mind, he related many interesting anecdotes of the times, especially with regard to the Indian warfare with which he was more particularly acquainted.

LOCAL NEWS.

New publications.—The Ladies National Magazine, being the Artist and Lady's World combined, and Violet Woodville—received from G. Brooke's Periodical Agency.

Temperance Lecture.—A lecture upon the above subject will be delivered before the Sons of Temperance this evening, at Buckingham's Room, by our estimable fellow-citizen, L. A. Go-bright, Esq. We know Mr. G. to be a gentleman of talent, and can promise the members of the association a rich and eloquent discourse. In connexion with this subject, we have received from the presiding officer the following note:

TO THE PUBLIC.

An editorial in this morning's Capitol respecting a lecture before the "Sons of Temperance" is calculated to mislead. The lecture is intended for the association only.

GEO. COCHRAN,
W. P. Tim. Div. No. 1.

Quiet of the City.—We learn from the captain of the Auxiliary Guard that the city has been remarkably quiet for the last few weeks. Very few persons have been confined in the watch-house except abandoned negroes and whites—"fellows by nature marked"—who, in most instances, being unable to give security for their good behavior, were committed to the work-house for twenty, thirty, and sixty days. The citizens are indebted to Captain Goddard and his guard for many good night's sleep. The only objection we have to the A. G. is, that they are not strong enough. In time we hope to see them increased.

We are indebted to the politeness of the clerk of Brown's Hotel for the loan of an extra of the Boston Times, containing the important foreign news by the Caledonia.

National Theatre—Sanford's Benefit!—It will be seen by a card in another column, that Mr. Sanford takes a benefit this evening at the above establishment. When we say that he is the best delineator of negro characters that we have ever seen, we speak but simple truth. His dancing is true to nature, and far superior to that of Jim Crow Rice. Go early, and give him a bumper, as this is the last opportunity you will have.
